PRESS RELEASE

Miles Nelson's new range of grab rails helping to keep your family safe in wet areas!

Miles Nelson is excited to announce the launch of its new range of Stainless Steel grab rails for residential use.

These stylish grab rails are made from high quality 25mm diameter Stainless Steel tube and are a perfect addition for around the home to assist in movement to and from low situated items such as toilets and baths.

Available in various straight handle sizes including a 45 degree curved model, all products all include a slip resistant grip feature to ensure maximum safety.

They are conveniently packaged in blister packs and include DIY friendly installation instructions.

All fixing included.
